EXPLANATORY NOTES ON THE ACT OF
THE REPUBLIC OF INDONESIA
NUMBER 13 OF THE YEAR 2003

CONCERNING

MANPOWER AFFAIRS

I. GENERAL

Manpower development as an integral part of the national development based on the Pancasila and the 1945 Constitution shall be carried out within the framework of building up Indonesian as fully integrated human beings and the overall, integrated development of Indonesia's society in order to enhance the dignity, values and status of manpower and to create a prosperous, just and well-off society in which material and spiritual benefits are evenly distributed.

Manpower development must be regulated in such a way so as to fulfill the rights of and to provide basic protection to manpower and workers/labourers and at the same time to be able to create conducive conditions for the development of the world of business.

Manpower development has many dimensions and interconnectivity. The interconnectivity is not only related to the interests of the workforce during, prior to and after the term of employment but also related to the interests of the entrepreneur, the government and the public. Therefore, comprehensive and all-inclusive arrangements are needed. And this shall include, among others, the development of human resources, improvement of productivity and competitiveness of Indonesian manpower, efforts to extend job opportunities, job placement service, and industrial relations development.

Industrial relations development as part of manpower development must be directed to keep on realizing industrial relations that fundamental rights of workers and to secure the implementation of equal opportunity and equal treatment without discrimination on whatever basis in order to realize the welfare of workers/ labourers and their family by continuing to observe the development of progress made by the world of business;

- e. That several acts on manpower are considered no longer relevant to the need and demand of manpower development and hence, need to be abolished and/or revoked;
- f. That based on the considerations as mentioned under points a, b, c, d and e, it is necessary to establish an Act concerning Manpower.

In view of:

Article 5 Subsection (1), Article 20 Subsection (2), Article 27 Subsection (2), Article 28 and Article 33 Subsection (1) of the 1945 Constitution.

By the joint approval between

THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE REPUBLIC OF INDONESIA
AND
THE PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF INDONESIA

DECIDE:

To stipulate:

ACT CONCERNING MANPOWER AFFAIRS

are harmonious, dynamic and based on justice. For this purpose, recognition and appreciation of human rights as stated under the Decree of the People's Consultative Assembly Number XVII of 1998 (TAP MPR NO. XVII/MPR/1998) must be realized. As far as manpower business is concerned, this MPR decree serves as a chief milestone in promoting and upholding democracy in the workplace. It is expected that the implementation of democracy in the workplace will encourage optimal participation from all manpower and workers/ labourers of Indonesia to build the aspired State of Indonesia.

Some prevailing laws and regulations concerning manpower that has been ongoing thus far, including parts that are of colonial products, put workers in a less advantageous position especially when it comes to job placement service and industrial relations system that put too much emphasis on differences of positions and interests so that they are no longer suitable for today's needs as well as for future demands. The said statutory legislations are:

- Ordinance concerning the Mobilization of Indonesian People To Perform Work Outside of Indonesia (Staatsblad Year 1887 Number 8);
- Ordinance dated December 17, 1925, which is a regulation concerning the Imposition of Restriction on Child Labour and Night Work for Women (Staatsblad Year 1925 Number 647);
- Ordinance Year 1926, which is a regulation concerning Child and Youth Labour on Board of A Ship (Staatsblad Year 1926 Number 87);
- Ordinance dated May 4, 1936 concerning Ordinance To Regulate Activities To Recruit Candidates (Staatsblad Year 1936 Number 208);
- Ordinance concerning the Repatriation of Labourers Who Come From or Are Mobilized From Outside of Indonesia (Staatsblad Year 1939 Number 545);
- Ordinance Number 9 Year 1949 concerning Restriction of Child Labour

(Staatsblad Year 1949 Number 8);

- Act Number 1 Year 1951 concerning the Declaration of the Enactment of Employment Act Year 1948 Number 12 From the Republic of Indonesia For All Indonesia (State Gazette Year 1951 Number 2);
- Act Number 21 Year 1954 concerning Labour Agreement Between Labour Union and Employer (State Gazette Year 1954 Number 69, Supplement to State Gazette Number 598a);
- Act Number 3 Year 1958 concerning the Placement of Foreign Manpower (State Gazette Year 1958 Number 8);
- Act Number 8 Year 1961 concerning Compulsory Work for University Graduates Holding Master's Degree (State Gazette Year 1961 Number 207, Supplement to State Gazette Number 2270);
- Act Number 7 of the Year 1963 serving as the Presidential Resolution on Prevention of Strike and or Lockout at Vital Enterprises, Government Agencies In Charge of Public Service and Agencies (State Gazette Year 1963 Number 67);
- Act Number 14 Year 1969 concerning Fundamental Provisions concerning Manpower (State Gazette Year 1969 Number 55, Supplement to State Gazette Number 2912);
- Act Number 25 Year 1997 concerning Manpower (State Gazette of the Republic of Indonesia Year 1997 Number 73, Supplement to State Gazette of the Republic of Indonesia Number 3702);
- Act Number 11 Year 1998 concerning the Change in the Applicability of Act Number 25 Year 1997 concerning Manpower (State Gazette Year 1998 Number 184, Supplement to State Gazette Number 3791);
- Act Number 28 Year 2000 concerning the Establishment of Government Regulation in lieu of Law Number 3 Year 2000 concerning Changes to Act Number 11 Year 1998 concerning the Change in the Applicability of Act Number 25 Year 1997 concerning Manpower into Act (State Gazette Year 2000 Number 204, Supplement to State Gazette Number 4042).

The above-mentioned statutory legislations are considered necessary to be revoked and replaced by a new act. Relevant provisions of the old statutory rules and regulations are accommodated under this manpower act. Implementing regulations from the abolished acts shall remain effective until new implementing regulations are established to replace them.

This act does not only abolish rules, regulations and provisions that are no longer suitable/ relevant in the manpower context of today but also accommodate very fundamental changes in all aspects of the life of Indonesian as a nation that started with the 1998 reformation era.

At international labour forums, fundamental human rights in the workplace are recognized through the 8 (eight) core conventions of the International Labour Organization (ILO). These core conventions are basically made up of four groups:

- Freedom of Association (ILO Conventions No. 87 and 98);
- Prohibition against Discrimination (ILO Conventions No. 100 and 111);
- Abolition of Forced Labour (ILO Conventions No. 29 and 105);
- Minimum Age for Admission to Employment (ILO Convention No. 138 and No. 182).

Indonesian, as a nation, is committed to the recognition and appreciation of fundamental human rights in the workplace. This has been realized, among others, through the ratification of the 8 (eight) core conventions of the ILO. In line with the ratification in recognition of the fundamental rights, this manpower act must also reflect observance and appreciation of the seven core principles.

This act contains, among others:

- Statutory basis, fundamental principles and the objectives of manpower development;
- Manpower planning and manpower information;
- Provision of equal opportunities and equal treatment for manpower and workers/labourers;
- Job training that is directed to improve and develop skills and expertise of manpower in order to increase labour productivity as well as enterprise productivity;
- Job placement service in order to optimally use manpower and the placement of people available for work in jobs that uphold human values and human dignity as a form of responsibility of the government and the society in efforts to extend job opportunities;
- The proper use of manpower of foreign citizenship in accordance with the competences that are needed.
- Industrial relations development that accords with the values of the Pancasila, directed towards the development of harmonious, dynamic and justice-based relations among actors of production process;
- Institutional development and structures of industrial relations, including collective labour agreements, bipartite cooperative institutes, tripartite cooperative institutes, the provision of information on industrial relations to the society, and the settlement of industrial relations disputes.
- Protection for workers/ labourers, including protection of the worker/ labourer's fundamental rights to negotiate with the entrepreneur, protection of the worker/ labourer's occupational safety and health, special protection for female workers/ labourers, children, youths and disabled or handicapped workers, and protection concerning wages, welfare and social security for employees;
- Labour inspection, in order to make sure that statutory rules and regulations concerning manpower are indeed carried out, as they should.

Subsection (2)

Each warning letter may be issued either consecutively or not consecutively, according to what is stipulated under the work agreements or company regulations or collective labour agreements.

In case the warning letter is issued consecutively then the first warning letter shall be effective for a period of 6 (six) months. If the worker/labourer commits a violation again against the provisions under the work agreement or company regulations or collective labour agreement within the 6 (six) month period, the entrepreneur may issue the second warning letter, which shall also be effective for a period of 6 (six) months since the issuance of the second warning letter.

If the worker/labourer keeps on violating the provisions under the work agreement or company regulations or collective labour agreement, the entrepreneur may issue the third (last) warning, which shall be effective for 6 (six) months since the issuance of the third warning. If within the effective period of the third warning, the worker/ labourer once again violate the provisions under the work agreement or company regulations or collective labour agreement, the entrepreneur may terminate employment.

If the six-month period since the issuance of the first warning letter is lapsed and the worker/labourer once again violates the work agreement, company regulations or collective labour agreement, then the warning letter issued by the entrepreneur shall once again be the first warning letter. The same shall also apply to the second and third warning.

Work agreements or company regulations or collective labour agreements may stipulate the issuance of first and last warning letter for certain types of violations. So, if the worker/labourer violate the work agreement or company regulations or collective labour agreement within the effective period of the first and last warning letter, the entrepreneur may terminate the worker/labourer's employment.

The six-month period is meant as an effort to educate the affected worker/labourer so that he/she has time to correct his/her behavior. On the other hand, the six-month period shall give the entrepreneur enough time to evaluate the performance of the worker/labourer in question.
