Calling for action from all

Dengue prevention and control is a shared responsibility. Unless everybody plays their role, dengue will not be controlled.

Key actions include social mobilization (community participation), vector control, case management, surveillance, outbreak response and research.

Individuals, communities, private sector and government agencies (including non-health) need to work together to fight dengue.

ACTION AGAINST DENGUE!