We were also encouraged by early efforts being undertaken not only in enhancing and upgrading the ASEAN Plus One Free Trade Agreements (FTAs), including those with China, Republic of Korea and with Australia and New Zealand, but also in engaging potential FTA partners. We believed in the important role of the ASEAN’s FTAs in contributing to a stronger rules-based multilateral trading system with the World Trade Organisation (WTO) at its centre and a more resilient ASEAN Economic Community, consistent with our Leaders commitment to maintain an open, inclusive, transparent, and rules-based regional architecture in the region. We also acknowledged the need to reform the WTO system in a way that takes into consideration the changing global realities.
