FOREWORD

Over the years, ASEAN has developed and implemented various cooperation projects undertaken within and outside of the ASEAN Member States. Those projects are carried out either through cooperation among ASEAN Member States or in partnership with ASEAN External Partners.

The ASEAN cooperation projects aim at supporting the overall goal of ASEAN integration. They focus on addressing regional challenges and issues to avoid duplications with efforts that are better implemented at the national or local levels.

Based on the above long experiences, this “Handbook on Proposal Development for ASEAN Cooperation Projects” is prepared to provide guidance for the development of proposals for ASEAN cooperation projects as it provides detailed explanations on how to fill-up the ASEAN Cooperation Project Proposal Template and Completion Reports.

The Handbook also provides guidance for proposed ASEAN cooperation projects to be aligned with the current ASEAN’s main documents that outline the ASEAN’s overall goals and direction, namely the ASEAN Community Vision 2025, the Master Plan on ASEAN Connectivity (MPAC) 2025, and the Initiative for ASEAN Integration (IAI) Work Plan III. The Handbook further reminds the need for ASEAN cooperation projects to uphold ASEAN’s purposes and principles in carrying out development cooperation endeavors with other parties. This includes ensuring ASEAN’s centrality, as well as preserving inclusive and non-discriminatory principles. I believe the increased number of good quality ASEAN cooperation projects will contribute significantly to the ASEAN Integration and community building process. I thank the Sub-Committee on Development Cooperation of the Committee of the Permanent Representatives to ASEAN (CPR) in Jakarta for their contributions and guidance in the finalisation of this Handbook.

I sincerely hope that prospective project proponents, implementing agencies and other stakeholders interested to work and collaborate with ASEAN would take guidance from the Handbook to ensure forthcoming ASEAN cooperation projects will support and contribute to the realisation of the ASEAN goals and visions effectively.

DATO LIM JOCK HOI
Secretary-General of ASEAN

CHAPTER 1

About the Handbook

1.1. Purpose of the Handbook

This Handbook offers a simplified and practical reference for project proponents who are looking to develop and submit project proposals through the use of the ASEAN Cooperation Project Proposal Template. The Handbook is also aiming to guide proponents and relevant stakeholders through the implementation of their projects. This guidance encompasses assisting them in the monitoring of approved projects, as well in the completion and submission of completion reports through the use of the prescribed ASEAN Cooperation Project Completion Template. Both of these templates can be accessed at: <http://asean.org/resource/asean-project-templates/>.

The Handbook is primarily designed for projects accessing supports from the ASEAN Development Fund, ASEAN Cultural Fund and other ASEAN-established sources of funding. The book is also aimed at projects supported by ASEAN External Partners through the ASEAN-External Partner established Trust and Project Funds (TPF) under the management of the ASEAN Secretariat. Moreover, the main principles and key processes described in the Handbook are also applicable to guide the development of projects excluded from the Standard Operating Procedure on Project Appraisal and Approval (SOP PAA) and or those supported by partners that have yet to establish guidelines with ASEAN, including for the development of longer-term projects or ASEAN cooperation programmes with ASEAN External Partners.

1.2. Target Users of the Handbook

This Handbook has been designed for use by project proponents, as well as by other stakeholders at both regional and national levels. It contains relevant information on project proposal development in the context of ASEAN. It also provides detailed steps on filling-up the ASEAN project proposal template and describes the processes on the development, submission, implementation and completion of projects.

The Handbook is intended for:

- ASEAN Member States' (AMS) representatives to ASEAN Bodies, Committees or Working-Groups implementing projects in line with relevant strategic priorities under the ASEAN Community Blueprints;
- Individual proponents aiming to contribute to the above and/or the implementation of Plans of Action which are relevant to ASEAN External Partners;
- Line ministries or national-government agencies which are looking to implement regional projects under the sponsorship of an ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body;
- Other interested stakeholders who are looking to partner with ASEAN in pursuit of shared goals; and
- ASEAN Secretariat and ASEAN National Secretariat officers and staff who are aiming to fulfill their project-coordination and facilitation roles and providing guidance to potential proponents and cooperation partners.

1.3. Contents of the Handbook

The Handbook comprises five chapters. Chapters 1 and 2 describe the purpose of the Handbook, overview of ASEAN development cooperation and its collaboration with ASEAN External Partners and the ASEAN project cycle. CHAPTER 2

Overview of the ASEAN Cooperation Projects

2.1. ASEAN Cooperation Projects

ASEAN Cooperation Projects are one of the implementing vehicles for the various development interventions, goals and objectives which are set out under the ASEAN 2025: Forging Ahead Together. This framework encompasses ASEAN Community Blueprints which address political security, economic and socio-cultural concerns.

In general, ASEAN cooperation projects are initiatives proposed and sponsored by ASEAN committees, bodies and entities that should support ASEAN Community integration efforts. It may or may not involve collaborations with ASEAN External Partners. These projects can be implemented as either short-term projects or long-term programmes.

ASEAN maintains the ASEAN Development Fund (ADF) and ASEAN Cultural Fund (ACF) contributed by ASEAN Member States to support ASEAN strategic initiatives. Moreover, a number of ASEAN's Dialogue, Sectoral and Development Partners (collectively ASEAN External Partner) have established Funds with ASEAN to support their development cooperation with ASEAN. ASEAN also typically develops Plans of Actions (PoA), or similar documents with ASEAN External Partners to strengthen development cooperation in mutually agreed areas. The POA of Dialogue Partners cooperation may be accessed at <http://asean.org/asean/external-relationships/>.

2.2. Main References for the Development of Project Proposals

ASEAN cooperation projects contribute to the implementation and achievement of the ASEAN Community Vision 2025. The following reference documents should be used in the identification of a given project's proposed contribution to the process of ASEAN Community building:

- ASEAN 2025: Forging Ahead Together

It comprises the ASEAN Political-Security Community Blueprint 2025, the ASEAN Economic-Community Blueprint 2025, and the ASEAN Socio-Cultural Community Blueprint 2025. In order to achieve the goals of ASEAN Community Vision 2025, ASEAN and its respective sectoral bodies have established priorities and work plans (<http://asean.org/storage/2015/12/ASEAN-2025-Forging-Ahead-Together-final.pdf>).

- Initiative of ASEAN Integration (IAI) Work Plan III

This plan outlines five areas of strategic priorities and their objectives, as well as specific actions to be completed within each strategic area. The vision of the IAI Work Plan III is to assist the CLMV countries as they attempt to meet ASEAN-wide targets and fulfil their commitments in realising the goals of the ASEAN Community. The five areas of strategic priority are: (i) food and agriculture; (ii) trade facilitation; (iii) micro-, small- and medium-scale enterprises (MSMEs); (iv) education; and (v) health and well-being (<http://asean.org/storage/2016/09/09rev2Content-IAI-Work-Plan-III.pdf>).

- The Master Plan on ASEAN Connectivity (MPAC) 2025

The Master Plan focuses on five strategic areas on: sustainable infrastructure; digital innovation; seamless logistics: regulatory excellence; and population mobility. MPAC 2025 was developed in consultation with the relevant ASEAN Sectoral Bodies, as well as other stakeholders (<http://asean.org/storage/2016/09/Master-Plan-on-ASEAN-Connectivity-20251.pdf>).

It is important that ASEAN cooperation projects adhere to the principles of the ASEAN Charter, including the principle of equality of treatment of Member States. For a project to be considered as an ASEAN cooperation project, it should:

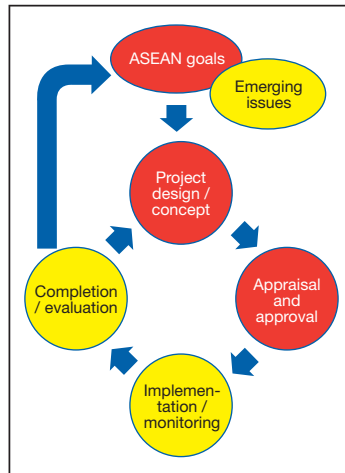

1. Address challenges at the regional level and create synergy with other projects that are addressing the same issues;
2. Be of benefit to ASEAN and engage all ASEAN Member States equally;
3. Align with the ASEAN Community Blueprints and other relevant ASEAN documents; and
4. Be endorsed by either the relevant ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body or the Committee of the Permanent Representatives to ASEAN (CPR), or both.

As part of the Initiative for ASEAN Integration (IAI) and the narrowing of the development gaps among ASEAN Member States, projects may opt to focus its support for Cambodia, Lao PDR, Myanmar and Viet Nam (CLMV). Such projects shall also be endorsed by the ASEAN Sectoral Committee and or ASEAN Body prior to final approval. Moreover, such projects are required to go through a secondary accreditation process to qualify them as IAI initiatives.

2.3. The ASEAN Cooperation Project Cycle

The ASEAN cooperation project cycle comprises four stages:

- Project proposal development/ project design. Project proponent develops their proposal using the ASEAN Cooperation Project Proposal Template.
- Appraisal and approval. The ASEAN Secretariat reviews the project proposals' compliance with the ASEAN Cooperation Project Proposal Template before submission to the ASEAN Sponsoring Body endorsement and to the final approving body.

- Implementation and monitoring. The proponent / IA implements, monitors and reports on the project's progress.
- Completion/evaluation. The proponent / IA uses monitoring data and evaluation findings in order to report on the project's achievements and results (when compared against the given indicators), the prospects for the sustainability of the results, any lessons learned which may provide guidance for planning future or related projects, and fund utilisation.

CHAPTER 3

Formulation of Project Proposals

3.1. Main Stakeholders for Proposal Development

Proponent initiates a project proposal. The proponent may come from an ASEAN Member State, ASEAN External Partner or the ASEAN Secretariat. Proponent has to channel project proposal through government line ministry / agency to identify priorities and focus the project to the ASEAN Community Blueprint or the sectoral body work plan.

IA is the legal entity nominated by the proponent that receives project funding, usually through the ASEAN Secretariat, and which then implements the approved project. The IA may be the proponent, or another agency or entity. IA is responsible for the achievement of a given project's objectives and outputs, monitoring and reporting, and the submission of the required project reports to ASEAN through the ASEAN Secretariat.

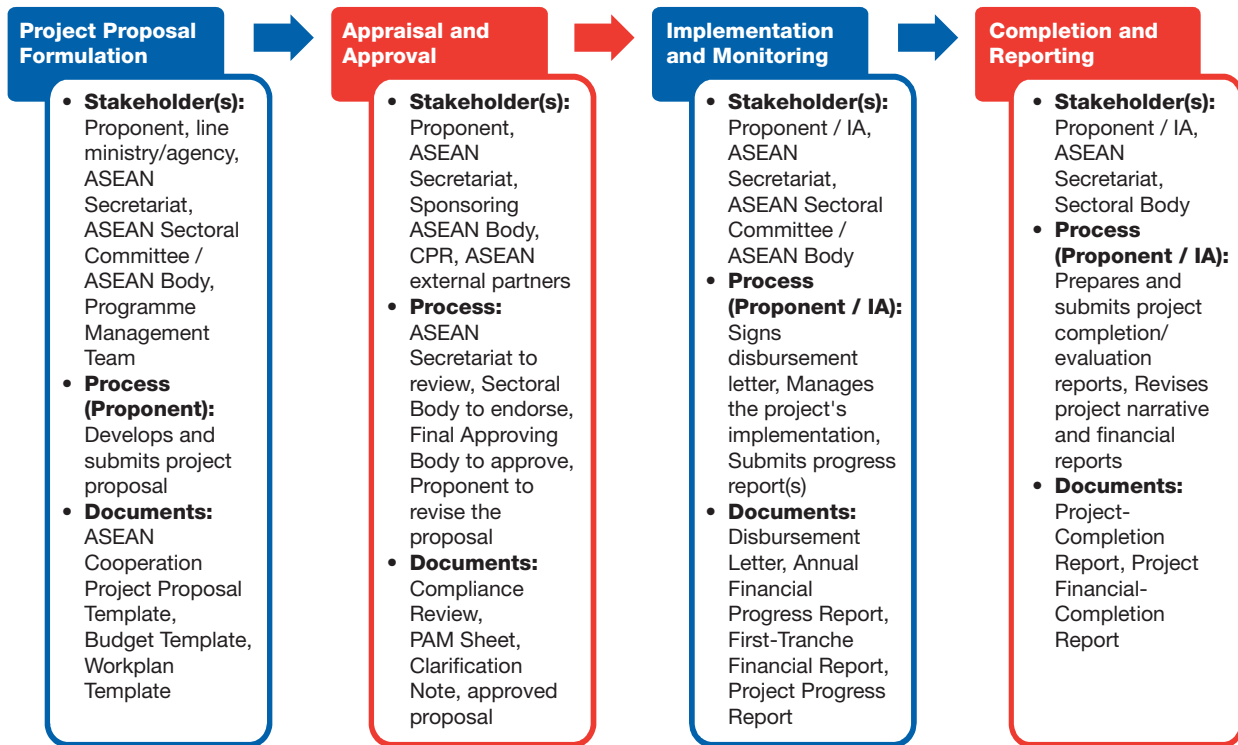

Roles and responsibilities of project proponent:

1. Develop project proposal in accordance with ASEAN project rules and guidelines, including the identification of the relevant ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body, and use of the prescribed project proposal template to be submitted electronically in Microsoft Word and Excel format. Project proponent may liaise with the ASEAN Secretariat in order to ensure that a project proposal is aligned with ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body priorities;
2. Consult with the relevant Programme Management Team (PMT) if applicable prior to submitting the project proposal for the ASEAN Secretariat's appraisal and approval process;
3. Submit a project proposal to the ASEAN Secretariat through an ASEAN Member State (ASEAN National Secretariat, line agencies, ASEAN bodies) or through the relevant ASEAN Secretariat Sectoral Division, Programme Cooperation and Project Management Division (PCPMD) or External Relations Division (ERD), or during a meeting of an ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body;
4. Attach the interim or completion reports of previous project phases when submitting recurring/next phase project proposal and take into account the results, feedback and inputs from the former during the design of the latter. Next phase project proposal shall be processed as a regular proposal through the appraisal and approval process;

5. Identify the proposed source of funding before submitting the project proposal for appraisal. Proponent may seek the Desk Officer's (DO) assistance in identifying the potential funding source. The DO may consult ERD, PMT, PCPMD and Finance and Budget Division (FBD) on the most suitable funding source;
6. Revise the proposal based on comments received during the appraisal and approval process; and
7. Submit the project proposal to the ASEAN Secretariat at least 83 working days prior to the intended project implementation date.

Project proposal development within ASEAN comprises several steps. While the proponent is responsible for the development of initial formulation of a given project proposal, the ASEAN Secretariat has established a mechanism which aims to ensure that projects are aligned with the respective ASEAN sponsoring body's priorities. The related stakeholders, processes and required documents within the ASEAN project cycle are described in the next page.

3.2. The ASEAN Cooperation Project Proposal Template

The ASEAN Cooperation Project Proposal Template sets out the minimum requirements for proponents. The template is available at: <http://asean.org/resource/asean-project-templates/>.

1. Project Details

Proposal Identification Code

The ASEAN Secretariat will fill in the relevant code.

Project Title

Formulate a concise project title that encapsulates the essence of the proposed project. Please attempt to reflect the main purpose of the project in the title, and not just the key activity or event that the project encompasses.

Brief Project Description (on the proposal's cover page) – 300 words max

Provide a brief description of the proposed project, its objectives and key outputs or activities. This description should be succinct but should also contain enough information so that approving bodies will be able to understand how the project will contribute to ASEAN's overall goals.

Recurring Projects

Indicate whether the proposed project is part of a series of projects (involving similar objectives, outputs and activities).

Recurring Projects are those which are repeated at fixed (regular) or irregular intervals and have the same or similar objective(s), outputs and activities. This could be a report or publication that is issued annually, or a training programme which is conducted regularly.

Next-Phase Projects are projects which continue and build upon the activities of previous projects, expanding or working on other additional areas which were not covered or explored by the previous projects. These are not considered as Recurring Projects. For both of these categories, please provide the project code of the previous project.

Project Classification

In order to be able to assess the eligibility of proposed projects, as well as their scope and contribution to the implementation of ASEAN strategies, the ASEAN Secretariat and approving bodies require proper project classification.

Scope

Indicate whether the proposed project is a Single-Sectoral (e.g. Agriculture) or Cross-Sectoral Project (e.g. Agriculture and Infrastructure), as this will involve different project appraisal and approval mechanisms and processing times:

- A single-sectoral project is sponsored by only one sectoral body.
- A cross-sector project is sponsored by more than one sectoral bodies.

For cross-sectoral project, proponent should specify the particular ASEAN Community Blueprint, the Characteristics and Action Line to which the focus and/or the largest part of the budget allocation will apply. This will help the ASEAN Secretariat to identify the Lead Division which will coordinate the proposal in question. (See the discussion of ASEAN Community Blueprints below).

Pillar

Refer to the ASEAN Community Blueprints (ASEAN Economic Community Blueprint, ASEAN Socio-Cultural Community Blueprint, ASEAN Political Security Community Blueprint) in order to ascertain which of these blueprints the proposed project relates to. Specify the respective ASEAN Community Blueprint, the Characteristic and Action Line. Tick either “IAI” or “Connectivity” if the proposed project relates to the Initiative for ASEAN Integration Work Plan III or to the Master Plan for ASEAN Connectivity 2025 respectively.

- ASEAN 2025: Forging Ahead Together
- Initiative of ASEAN Integration (IAI) Work Plan III
- The Master Plan for ASEAN Connectivity (MPAC) 2025

Nature of Cooperation

Categorise the proposed project according to the nature of its cooperation.

There are five broad stages of cooperation with regard to the regional integration within ASEAN:

1. Confidence building: in order to build understanding as regards the common areas of interest and the potential for achieving objectives through cooperation and actions at the regional level;
2. Harmonisation: in order to take a common approach within Member States as regards the management of programmes;
3. Special assistance: in order to bridge any development gaps and assist any Member States who requires assistance to be able to adopt harmonised management practices;
4. Joint efforts: to create regional institutions that can act on behalf of the Member States in areas where there have been agreements to delegate responsibility; and
5. Regional integration and expansion: to enlarge the scope of influence by showcasing successful institutions as models of regionalism, and to promote the adoption by others through a process of bi-regional cooperation.

Type of Intervention

In order to achieve an accelerated integration process, a number of development interventions can be employed. Based on the experience of ASEAN, three key project goals aimed at fostering regional integration can be distinguished:

1. Harmonisation of national policies: in order to create a regionally consistent legislative framework for certain institutional practices;
2. Harmonisation of institutional mechanisms: in order to implement consistent regional management practices and regimes, especially within the public sector; and
3. Capacity building in the relevant key and supporting sectors: in order to initiate the necessary institutional changes, so that the above harmonisation efforts can be achieved.

Project Duration

Please select an applicable duration period.

Proposed Commencement/Completion Date

A project is considered to have “commenced” on the date that the proponent / IA is informed of the approval and upon receipt of the first disbursement. A project is considered to have been “completed” when the project completion report and unspent balance, if any, is received and verified by the ASEAN Secretariat.

Participating ASEAN Member States

ASEAN cooperation projects are expected to involve the participation of all Member States. If a project involves the participation of all Member States but in different ways (e.g. through different levels of assistance) or does NOT involve all Member States, please indicate the reason for this.

Sponsoring ASEAN Body

Identify the relevant ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body which oversees the areas that the project is intending to support. Annex 1 sets out a list of ASEAN Sponsoring Bodies which could endorse the project. The proponent should contact the ASEAN National Secretariat in their respective country in order to identify the most appropriate national focal point and or consult with the ASEAN Secretariat.

It is important to work with the relevant line ministries in order to ensure that the project is fully aligned with the relevant sectoral plans, as well as with the priorities of the project funding. For project funds with PMT established at the ASEAN Secretariat, the PMT can facilitate and provide technical assistance during the development of the project proposal.

If the project involves cross-sectoral issues, then the proponent needs to identify other ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body in addition to the lead ASEAN Sponsoring Body.

Proponent's Name and Address

Provide the name and contact details and address of the proponent. The proponent will become the contact person during the project's appraisal and approval stages.

If the IA is different from the proponent, then the complete name, contact details and address of the institution should also be provided.

The IA will be responsible for receiving the funding, the implementation of the project, and monitoring as well as ultimate completion. The IA should also communicate regularly with the ASEAN Secretariat, as well as submit progress and completion reports.

Date of Proposal Submission

Indicate the date of the proposal submission to ASEAN Secretariat, the overall plan for the project’s implementation, as well as the estimated duration of the project’s implementation.

Proposed Funding Source(s)

Please consult with the ASEAN Secretariat and/or the relevant ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body in order to identify a proposed source of funding.

Proposed Project Budget (total)

State the proposed total project budget in US dollars. This should be consistent with the detailed budget proposal which is set out using the required project proposal template.

2. Project Justification, Regionality and Beneficiaries – 600 words max

a) Current Problem

Briefly describe the issues or problems in the region or sector that the project seeks to address. Explain the cause of these issues or problems. The write-up has to be clearly linked to the project’s objective(s).

b) Regionality

Show that the problem or issue affects more than one ASEAN Member State and requires regional action. This is essential if the project is to be considered as an ASEAN cooperation project.

c) Project History

List any related projects/activities, whether the previous projects/activities or those which are currently being implemented. Describe how this new project will complement them. For Recurring Project, please include details of any outputs/lessons learned during the previous project.

d) Beneficiaries

Please state who will directly benefit from this project. The proponent could also identify who will indirectly benefit from its implementation.

3. Project Results

Present the intended project results in the form of the following table:

Project Objective/Outcome: The intended physical, financial, institutional, social, environmental, or other development results to which a project is expected to contribute. If applicable, the project can have more than one objectives.
Outputs (What results will the project lead to, for example any products and services, or changes that are relevant to the achievement of the objective(s).)	Indicators (to measure the project's achievement) How will the project's achievement be measured? Please indicate feasible quantitative or qualitative factor. Main Activities: List the actions or activities that the project will carry out to achieve the above results/outputs.
The project can have more than one result/output. Please add rows above as necessary.

4. Project Management Arrangements – 600 words max

c) Monitoring and Evaluation Arrangements

Describe the plan which outlines how the monitoring and reporting of the project will be carried out. Please note that a progress report will be required for any project which spans two financial years or which lasts for longer than a single year. Please note that a project evaluation will also be required for any project which has a budget of more than USD 1 million or which will last for longer than a single year. Project evaluation should be budgeted for accordingly.

5. Project Sustainability – 300 words max

State how the output(s) of the project will be sustained after the project is completed.

6. Gender and Other Cross-Cutting Issues – 300 words max

a) Gender

Please indicate how gender-related issues will be taken into account during the project's implementation, including how the project will ensure equal opportunities for participation where appropriate, and how this aspect will be monitored. The proponent may also describe if the following is part of the project:

- Promotes the participation of women in decision-making processes;
- Addresses gender stereotypes and conveys a positive image of women and girls;

- Promotes the allocation of resources for gender-responsive projects and programmes; and
- Others as appropriate.

Annex 3 – Notation on Additional Supporting Documents

List any relevant additional supporting documents which are submitted with the project proposal (reports, memoranda of understanding, etc.) and should enhance the understanding of the proposed project and its overall strategy.

Project Appraisal and Approval

Project proposals have to go through official review and appraisal processes which are undertaken by the ASEAN Secretariat, the relevant ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body and the final approving body.

4.1. General Principles

1. Projects can be recognised as ASEAN cooperation projects if it meets the criteria for ASEAN cooperation projects as described in Chapter 2;
2. The SOP PAA ensures that the above is adhered;
3. Projects processed and approved through the SOP PAA are considered ASEAN cooperation projects; and
4. ASEAN External Partners could request for recognition of a project as an ASEAN-External Partner cooperation project, upon getting the necessary approval from the ASEAN side.

4.2. Inclusion and Exclusion

Projects seeking funding support from the ASEAN Development Fund (ADF), the ASEAN Cultural Fund (ACF), and TPF managed by ASEAN Secretariat that were established by ASEAN and with ASEAN External Partners are required to be processed through the SOP PAA. Likewise the following are also required to go through the SOP PAA:

- Projects seeking funding support from external funds but outside of TPF which are established and administered by the ASEAN Secretariat, provided that ASEAN and the concerned ASEAN External Partner have yet to agree on guidelines on project appraisal and approval for the said fund; and
- Projects seeking funding support from TPF established by ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body that do not have their own established appraisal and approval process.

There are few variations of procedures to recognise the partnership or cooperation. The following has to go through the main elements of the SOP PAA which are the endorsement of an ASEAN Sponsoring Body, and/or final approval by the relevant approving body or the CPR:

- ASEAN cooperation projects funded by individual ASEAN Member State (AMS);
- Multi-year programmes or project facilities funded by ASEAN External Partners. The sub-projects and activities under the endorsed multi-year programmes or project facilities shall be approved using the existing agreed governance mechanism, such as Project Steering Committee, which, in principle, shall be based on the main elements of the SOP PAA;
- Projects and programmes to be funded by ASEAN Sectoral Dialogue Partners and ASEAN Development Partners; and
- Projects and programmes funded by other external partners including multi-lateral and international organisations such as the World Bank, the ASEAN Development Bank and the United Nations agencies, the endorsement needed is until the ASEAN Sectoral Body while the CPR will be notified.

4.3. Duration of Appraisal and Approval

Proponent should take this process into account when planning the implementation of any project. In general, in cases where project is seeking funding support from the ASEAN Secretariat managed fund, Proponent should allocate at least 83 days for single-sectoral project and 96 working days for cross-sectoral project prior to the intended implementation date. This includes 30 days for revisions of project proposal by the proponent.

The proponent may request an extension for a proposal revision of up to 20 working days (4 weeks), as prescribed in the SOP PAA processes. The PCPMD will oversee the process of appraisal and approval.

4.4. SOP Appraisal and Approval Process

The four main elements of the appraisal and approval process can be described below.

a) ASEAN Secretariat Review

The ASEAN Secretariat review will focus upon the adherence of the project proposal to the ASEAN Cooperation Project Proposal Template, as well as on the clarity of each section of the template, including benefits and the participation of the AMS, objectives, outputs, indicators, means of verification, and also the management of the project.

Projects that have already been endorsed by the relevant ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body, recurring and or valued under US$100,000 can be exempted from the full application of the SOP PAA, provided that the ASEAN Secretariat can confirm that due diligence and compliance to the existing rules and procedures had been followed in the development of the proposal.

b) ASEAN Sponsoring Body/Committee Review and Approval

The ASEAN Secretariat submits the proposal to the ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body for its review and subsequent approval.

Some projects may have been approved by the relevant ASEAN committees and/or bodies prior to ASEAN Secretariat review. The ASEAN Secretariat shall take due diligence in reviewing that the project adheres to the existing policies and guidelines prior to submission to the final approving body.

For any project excluded from SOP PAA and, submitted for recognition under the “Guidelines for Recognition of Projects Supported by ASEAN’s External Partners Outside of the ASEAN Trust and Projects Funds”, ASEAN Secretariat will submit the project proposal to either the relevant ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body first and then for the final approval of the CPR.

If the project proposal is submitted or presented by ASEAN External Partner to the ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body, either at a meeting or through a letter, the project proposal may be considered directly by the ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body. Project proposal under this category will use the format as agreed by the concerned sectoral body. The ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body may ask the ASEAN Secretariat to conduct its assessment according to the Guidelines mentioned above.

c) Final Approving Body Review and Approval

Projects seeking funding from TPF should obtain approval from both ASEAN, usually through the ASEAN CPR, and the relevant ASEAN External Partner. This process takes approximately 45 working days.

For projects without a relevant ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body, upon meeting criteria as prescribed in the Guidelines mentioned above, the project proposal will be submitted by the PCPMD to the CPR for endorsement and its subsequent recognition.

If the project proposal is revised by the ASEAN External Partner and if the change(s) fulfil one or more of the criterion which required resubmission to the CPR, the proposal will then be submitted for the Post CPR Approval process by PCPMD.

CHAPTER 5

Project Implementation and Monitoring

5.1. Fund Disbursement

After a project proposal has been approved, the proponent and the IA will be notified. The approved project proposal becomes the basis for the implementation of the project by the nominated IA.

The IA will sign a disbursement letter with the ASEAN Secretariat in order to assume responsibility for the implementation of the project and as part of accountability to report on the received funds. The IA has to ensure that the project's implementation is consistent with the approved project proposal.

For projects utilising TPF being managed by the ASEAN Secretariat, funding will be disbursed in US dollars to a bank designated by the IA. An official Disbursement Letter will then be issued following the approval of the project. This letter will clarify the reporting requirements for the IA which has been entrusted the funds and also set out an official timeline for the submission of progress and completion reports. Please refer to Annex 4 for the Disbursement Letter template.

The IA has to confirm separate bank-account details for the calculation of any funding balance. Any unspent balance and/or interest which remain from the funds should be returned to the ASEAN Secretariat account after the completion of the project, as prescribed in the Disbursement Letter.

All IA recipient bank accounts should be in the name of an official institution. Moreover, it is vital that a consultation with the ASEAN Secretariat is undertaken in the event that a recipient bank account is instead under the name of an individual.

Funding will be disbursed in tranches depending on the nature and the duration of the project. For projects of over a year's duration, initial funding amounting to 70% of the total fund will be disbursed. The proponent / IA can request for a disbursement of 20% of the total fund as a second tranche upon submission of the relevant progress report and the final balance of 10% will be settled upon completion of the project.

For projects of less than a year's duration, initial funding amounting to 90% of the total fund will be disbursed with the final balance of 10% to be settled upon submission of an ASEAN Project Report. Projects that fall into this category include workshops, meetings and disbursements of emergency funding.

5.2. Project Implementation

In general the IA is to be responsible for:

1. Managing the project implementation in accordance with the approved project proposal and also in accordance with ASEAN Project Guidelines, including the requirements for financial disbursement and project reporting;
2. Seeking endorsement from the relevant ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body and the CPR, through the relevant DO, regarding revisions needed to the project proposal, including budgets, objectives and timeframe;
3. Acting as a focal point and main resource for the project's implementation, if requested by the ASEAN Sponsoring Body and/or by the ASEAN Secretariat;
4. Updating any changes which are made regarding the contact person to the DO, and/or the relevant ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body; and
5. Undertaking project monitoring and preparing progress and completion reports, in accordance with the Disbursement Letter, the approved project proposal and the TOR of the fund and for submission to the relevant ASEAN Sectoral Committee / ASEAN Body and/or DO.

5.3. Monitoring and Progress Reporting

Project monitoring and reporting are essential components of project implementation. The IA is fully responsible for the implementation of the approved monitoring plan and reporting mechanism, so as to ensure that projects are implemented as efficiently and effectively as possible, and are ultimately able to achieve its objectives and required outputs.

The ASEAN Secretariat sets out the following progress-reporting scheme:

- For multi-year projects, the IA should submit a progress report (including financial report) every calendar year. Any such progress report should aim to furnish the ASEAN Secretariat and the ASEAN Sponsoring Body with information regarding the progress of the project's implementation. The report should also address any problems or challenges encountered during the implementation of the project, as well as any changes or adjustments which have been made to the planned activities and results. The report should also discuss the implications of such changes or adjustments, as regards the project budget.
- A progress report, including an interim financial report, is also required by the ASEAN Secretariat for auditing purposes and is applicable to any projects spanning two calendar years. Progress report should be submitted 30 days after the end of each calendar year.
- The proponent is also required to submit a First Tranche Financial Report before asking for the additional 20% of the next tranche. This type of report is only applicable to projects which have a 70-20-10 disbursement ratio.

CHAPTER 6

Project Completion and Reporting

6.1. Introduction

The proponent / IA is required to prepare and submit project reports, using the prescribed ASEAN Cooperation Project Report Template, to the DO from the ASEAN Secretariat within 60 working days after the project is fully implemented. If applicable, the proponent / IA is also required to revise any project narratives, financial report and evaluation report based on comments, inputs and recommendations made by the ASEAN Sponsoring Body and the ASEAN Secretariat.

The completion report has to refer to the approved project proposal and should be presented in a structured manner. It should include the following:

- The project's outputs, deliverables and other achievements and its contributions to ASEAN Community Blueprint and to ASEAN goals in general;
- How the project has benefitted the people or institutions in ASEAN Member States;
- Budget expenditures, reflecting the utilisation of the received funds. The Project Financial Report as an annex of the ASEAN Cooperation Project Report template should be used to explain actual expenditure vis-a-vis the received disbursements, interest income from bank deposit and to reflect any remaining balance to be returned to the ASEAN Secretariat.
- Lessons learned from the implementation of the project, which could include good practices on proposal development, implementation and utilisation of the project results, with a view to contribute in designing future or similar projects; and
- How the sustainability of the project results has been ensured.

For projects with significant amounts of funding and/or of a multi-year duration, it is recommended that a project-evaluation exercise also be included.

6.2. The ASEAN Cooperation Project Report Template

The ASEAN Cooperation Project Report Template sets out the minimum requirements which have to be met by any implementing agencies. The template can be downloaded from the ASEAN website¹.

ASEAN Cooperation Project Proposal

1. PROJECT DETAILS

Proposal Identification Code (to be provided by the ASEAN Secretariat):

Project Title:

ASEAN Youth Travel Journalism Training

Brief Project Description – 300 words max:

The ASEAN region is one of the fastest growing regional destinations in the world. The region's natural beauty and diverse cultures are regarded to be the primary factors that continue to draw tourists to ASEAN countries. Consequently, tourism has been one of ASEAN's key growth areas and has proven resilient, in spite of various global economic challenges. Unfortunately, this growth in tourism is not being followed by steps which are intended to nurture this growing interest in Southeast-Asian destinations. One issue that needs to be addressed is a lack of comprehensive and updated information for tourists regarding the region's many travel destinations, especially tourists who are travelling independently. Tourism is highly dependent on media coverage, because the vast majority of travel decisions are made by people who have never seen the destinations in question first-hand. Travel blogs can be utilised as a kind of online travel diary for travellers all across the world and are easily accessible by international tourists. Furthermore, travel blogs are often considered to be more reliable sources of updated information for tourists as regards popular tourist destinations. Increasing the number of reliable and well-updated travel blogs then should be able to make a beneficial contribution to tourism across the Southeast-Asian region. A lack of updated information has been hindering the promotion of Southeast-Asian destinations to date however and is thus continuing to slow the growth of regional tourism.

This project will address the aforementioned issue through the promotion of travel journalism among young people, especially through the medium of travel blogging. The project is aiming to educate 50 travel bloggers drawn from ASEAN Member States in the art of article writing, photography, blog management and marketing. By carefully selecting the project participants, we are aiming to ensure that only those who actually run active travel blogs will have the opportunity to further develop their capacities to manage their blogs as a reliable resource for tourists, be they tourists from the ASEAN region or from elsewhere in the world. Finally, the project will also set up a network of young ASEAN travel bloggers. The project's participants will be the first members of this network and will seek to sustain the results of the training sessions through their activities.

2. PROJECT JUSTIFICATION, REGIONALITY AND BENEFICIARIES –
600 words max

(a) Current Problem

Tourism has been one of the key growth sectors across the ASEAN region and has proven resilient amid various global economic challenges. The huge variety of tourist attractions located across the region drew 105 million tourists to the ASEAN region in 2015, an increase of 24% when compared to the 81 million tourists who visited the region in 2011. Data from the Pacific Asia Travel Association (PATA) shows that during the first few months of 2012, ASEAN was the fastest growing destination region in the world, followed by South Asia. According to the World Travel and Tourism Council, tourism made a significant and direct contribution to ASEAN's GDP (4.4%) and employment levels (3.2%) back in 2011. In addition, the sector accounted for an estimated 8% of total capital investment in the region. The sector has also seen increased interest, not only from the usual markets in Europe and the Americas, but also from Asia's economic giants and emerging markets. The region's natural splendour and diverse cultures are regarded to be the primary factors drawing tourists to the region.

Over the course of the last year, media outlets such as travel blogs, TV travel shows and online news portals have played a pivotal role in boosting global tourism and in promoting emerging destinations. The relationship that exists between tourism and the media is both vital and complex. Tourism is highly dependent on media exposure, because the vast majority of travel decisions are made by people who have never seen the destinations concerned first-hand. One of the primary media outlets that can be utilised to boost tourism across the ASEAN region is the travel blog. Travel blogs are especially popular among young people and feature online diaries posted by global travellers which can be easily accessed by tourists all over the world. Furthermore, the travel blog is often considered to be a more reliable source of information for tourists as regards being able to find updated information which relates to popular destinations. Increasing the number of available, reliable and well-updated travel blogs should thus ultimately make a beneficial contribution to tourism across the Southeast Asian region.

(b) Regionality

The primary objective of the training is to provide young people from across ASEAN Member States with the opportunity to improve their travel-blog management skills and thus to boost tourism across the region. Moreover, as most Southeast Asian countries are connected to easily accessible transportation networks, many travellers consider visiting more than one country when travelling to the region. Providing information on the various itineraries and transportation options that exist within the region through the medium of the travel blog should thus prove very useful for tourists and encourage them to visit more than one country. As such, the proposed training programme is considered relevant to all AMS and will be truly regional in nature.

(c) Project History

This is a first-time project.

(d) Beneficiaries

- i. Youth bloggers: 50 participants, five drawn from each ASEAN Member State who meet the following criteria:

4. PROJECT MANAGEMENT ARRANGEMENTS – 600 words max

(a) Management Arrangements

- The ASEAN Senior Official Meeting on Tourism (SOMT) will be the Sponsoring ASEAN Body for the project and will be responsible for overseeing the project's overall implementation. The SOMT will also be consulted regarding the selection of participants, including the extending of invitations to potential bloggers.
- The ASEAN Secretariat will be involved in the development of project proposals during the appraisal and approval process. The relevant sectoral divisions, especially the ICT and the Tourism Division, will facilitate the consultation process with the SOMT and ensure that the project is aligned with SOMT priorities as well as the ASEAN Community Blueprint 2025.
- The project proponent is responsible for ensuring the success of the project's implementation.
- The IA is responsible for the following:
 - Preparation of necessary documents, including invitations, administrative arrangements, tentative programmes and all of the activities that they entail, as well as other logistical arrangements which relate to the organisation of proposed activities;
 - Coordination with all of the relevant sectoral bodies and stakeholders in order to identify activity participants;

- General preparations, which should be undertaken with the assistance of the ASEAN Secretariat, as well as carried out in reference to Summary Records/Minutes relating to the respective activity, so that they can be adopted by all of the participants; and
- Submission of the project's completion and financial reports to the ASEAN Secretariat within 60 days of the implementation of the project.

(b) Human-Resource Inputs

The IA will execute the project through its existing staff. It is not therefore anticipated that a project team will have to be specifically recruited. The IA will allot five existing staff members to the project, specifically: one project coordinator, three project officers and one administrative assistant.

(c) Monitoring and Evaluation Arrangements

The monitoring and evaluation of the project will be undertaken by the IA with the assistance and cooperation of the ASEAN Secretariat. The IA for the project will prepare the project's completion and financial reports, which should include a full account of any funds which were disbursed from the ASEAN Development Fund (ADF), within 60 days of the project's final activity being completed. All reports are to be submitted to the ASEAN Secretariat. Any unspent portion of the project budget must be returned within 90 days of the project's completion.

Project participants will be evaluated through written examinations given both before and after the training in order to assess the knowledge that they have gained. Questionnaires will also be drawn up and these will focus on the progress of the project's implementation. These questionnaires will be circulated to the participating countries so as to monitor their progress.

5. PROJECT SUSTAINABILITY – 300 words max

As part of efforts to ensure that the project results are sustained, the project will implement the following:

- A rigorous participant-selection process. Seeing as this project requires its participants to have established and to actively maintain travel blogs, all of the participants should be both the owners and administrators of such blogs. This will hopefully ensure that after they have participated in the training, the project's participants will immediately apply their newly acquired skills on their respective websites. The project also requires participants to have published at least 20 articles over the course of the past 12 months, so as to ensure that only those who actively maintain their websites will receive the training, as there is a higher likelihood that such participants will continue to maintain and update their websites.
- The project participants are also required to produce one article relating to their experience of the training sessions, and to then publish these on their websites. This is to ensure that any newly acquired skills will be immediately applied.
- The participants name will be shared with the SOMT in the hope that support will continue to be extended to the participants in the future, i.e. by involving the participants in future cross-visits among AMS and by encouraging them to post their articles on the website.

6. GENDER AND OTHER CROSS-CUTTING ISSUES – 300 words max

(a) Gender

The gender balance of the project's participants will be taken into account. The aim of the project is that at least 30% of the training participants will be female. This is part of a gender mainstreaming effort.

(b) Other Cross-Cutting Issues

- The project will also incorporate some cross-cutting elements, and Information, Communication and Technology (ICT) will be included as part of the blogging activity and will require a certain amount of IT capacity. As such, the training will touch base with some practical IT skills.
- Finally, the project will seek to empower young people, who are to be the main beneficiaries of the training.

7. POTENTIAL RISKS – 300 words max

Risk / Threat	Mitigation Strategy
It has been noted that some potential risks may ultimately affect the success of this project. Specifically, due to the participant criteria, a suitable number of appropriate young people may not be selected in time.	In order to avoid this situation arising, strong support from the ASEAN National Secretariat will be required in order to socialize the training among the AMS and, where possible, to approach potential participants.
The training sessions will be conducted in English. Problems could arise if the participants only have a limited capacity in English and if they consequently cannot fully understand the training materials and are unable to interact with facilitators during the exercises and activities.	In order mitigate this risk, the organiser will hire interpreters or local facilitators. Coordination with the relevant AMS will also be undertaken in order to ensure that the participants have a sufficient level of English.

(c) Plan Adjustments

(If applicable, describe the reasons for any changes which were made to the project's objectives, outputs and activities during its implementation).

(d) Project Outcome

(Describe how the project is contributing to ASEAN Community Blueprints).

A project contributes to the ASEAN Socio-Cultural Community Blueprint 2025 by providing an enabling tool which can be used by young people so that they may become more open, adaptive, creative, innovative and entrepreneurial when promoting tourism within the ASEAN region:

E.1. Towards an Open and Adaptive ASEAN

iii. Showcase ASEAN to the outside world using various approaches e.g. ASEAN arts, film festivals and heritage programmes.

- In this project, travel blogs are being used as a means of showcasing the ASEAN region to the world. By training young people to improve their writing and photography skills, more potential tourists will be attracted to their blogs and use them as references when making travel decisions, thus enhancing the chances of ASEAN being made a travel destination.

E.2. Towards a Creative, Innovative and Responsive ASEAN

i. Enhance the competitiveness of ASEAN human resources through the promotion of life-long learning, pathways, equivalencies and skills development as well as the use of information and communication technologies across age groups.

- Through the sharing of best practices and lessons learned in travel journalism and travel-blog management, young people have not only been able to contribute to the boosting of tourism across the ASEAN region, but also to learn innovative methods of self and professional development.
- The Focus Group Discussion provided a platform through which the participants could openly and intellectually engage in fruitful discussions, as well as respond to creative ideas in a learning environment.

E3. Engender a Culture of Entrepreneurship in ASEAN

ii. Promote and nurture creative and inclusive social entrepreneurship for youths, persons with disabilities, women and vulnerable and marginalised groups.

- Training in blog management and marketing increases the opportunities available to young people to actively and flexibly participate in the global economy without any constraints relating to big capital, structures or bureaucracy. The strengthening of young people's capacities as regards entrepreneurship has created building blocks for the creation of sustainable and resilient communities across ASEAN.
- Through the establishment of an ASEAN travel-blogging network, young people are now able to take advantage of many available resources, as well as significant social and material support, and this in turn should lead to an elevated sense of camaraderie and more creative entrepreneurship.

4. PROJECT SUSTAINABILITY

(State how the sustainability of the results will be ensured)

- In order to ensure sustainability, only those who own and manage their own travel blogs, and who had also published more than 20 articles over the course of the past 12 months, were selected.
- Post-training, participants had to produce and publish one article drawn from their own experiences in order to ensure that their newly acquired skills were applied.
- The participants' names have been shared with the SOMT for the purpose of possible future projects, e.g. cross-visits between AMS. Participants have also been encouraged to write and publish travel articles on their own websites, as well as to contribute to the SOMT website using the skills gained during their training.

5. OVERALL PROJECT ASSESSMENT

(Outline two or three key findings and lessons learned)

In general, the feedback was positive:

- 95% of participants strongly agreed or agreed that the training had had a positive impact, had been well organised and had offered a decent programme and activities.
- 96% of participants had already published an article about Ubud on their travel blogs as of the preparation date of this report.
- 100% of participants had an increased understanding of the importance of blogs as a promotional means of boosting ASEAN tourism.
- 94% of participants cited Session 11 (Brand development, content marketing and methods of monetisation) as their favourite session.
- 90% of participants cited an excursion to Ubud as their favourite project activity.

However, 90% of participants suggested that for future events:

- Greater interaction with local communities should be accommodated, as this should enhance both their experiences and their writing on certain topics, e.g. seaweed farming, local cuisine and cooking, etc.
- Participants should be required to contribute to a local village or school, e.g. through a village or beach clean-up, or by teaching 2-3 hours of English or other practical skills at a school, etc.

6. FINANCIAL ANALYSIS
